LA-Z-BOY RAISES GUIDANCE FOR OCTOBER QUARTER EARNINGS, ANNOUNCES PLANT CONSOLIDATION CHARGE

MONROE, Mich., Oct. 25, 2001 – La-Z-Boy Incorporated (NYSE, PCX: LZB) announced today it currently expects to significantly exceed earnings estimates for its second fiscal quarter ending October 27th – prior to restructuring charges. The company now anticipates an overall sales decline for the quarter only in the mid-single digit percentage range, and expects earnings to be in the low $0.30's range per diluted share, prior to restructuring charges. In its previous guidance, the company had indicated it expected October quarter earnings in the range of $0.22 - $0.27 per diluted share, and the current First Call consensus analyst estimate for the quarter is $0.22. The company will report its second quarter operating results on November 14, 2001 and conduct an investor conference call the following day, November 15, 2001 at 11 a.m. EST (details below).

In regard to earnings, La-Z-Boy Incorporated president and CEO Jerry Kiser said, “Our higher margin upholstery segment operations are expected to finish the quarter with somewhat higher sales than we originally anticipated. In addition, our efforts to streamline the business, coupled with other cost-cutting efforts to date are providing further earnings improvements.”

The company also announced it will take a restructuring charge in the October quarter of approximately $0.13 per diluted share. This charge will cover the closure of three of the company's 54 manufacturing plants and the cessation of machining and finishing operations at two other plants, which will be converted into warehousing, sub-assembly and import service operations. The charge will primarily cover employee termination costs and the writedown of certain fixed assets and inventories. In total, these efforts will reduce the company's U.S. manufacturing space by about 1.25 million square feet and reduce employment by about 570 jobs. La-Z-Boy management anticipates that these actions, when fully implemented, will generate annual savings of approximately $10 million.

“Four of the five affected facilities are within our casegoods segment,” said Mr. Kiser. He continued, “As our casegoods companies continue to increase the ratio of imported components and finished products, our manufacturing space requirements can be reduced.” Two of the three plants scheduled for closure are American Drew's Plant #12 in North Wilkesboro, NC and Lea Industries' plant in Waynesville, NC. An additional American Drew facility in North Wilkesboro, along with the Pennsylvania House plant in White Deer, PA, will be converted into warehousing, sub-assembly and import service operations. According to Kiser, “The remaining domestic production of our casegoods brands will be reallocated to our best, most efficient manufacturing facilities. In combination with our import capabilities, these actions will significantly increase our cost efficiency and strengthen our ability to provide high value casegoods products to our broad customer base.”

The company’s upholstery segment will also close one of its manufacturing facilities – the La-Z-Boy plant in Florence, SC – although the Florence fabric-processing center will continue to operate. Production from the Florence plant will be absorbed into other La-Z-Boy upholstery facilities. Kiser said, “Even though our base La-Z-Boy upholstery business has continued to grow, our past investment in new technology and increased productivity allows us to reduce our overall manufacturing space requirements, while still meeting the current and anticipated future growth demands of this business.”

Kiser concluded, “We deeply regret the need to close these plants and eliminate these jobs. However, we believe this consolidation of our domestic production operations is absolutely essential for La-Z-Boy Incorporated to remain a highly competitive manufacturer and industry leader.”
